   (b) The Reserve Account shall normally contain an emergency fund of 5% of the previous year’s income. In addition, it shall hold the surplus funds, if any, which constitute the Union’s savings. The reserve account shall be administered as follows:
      i) Surplus funds over and above the emergency fund may be allocated on an individual basis for non-recurrent expenditure by the Executive. Any items or projects which require a significant proportion of the surplus funds shall be discussed at an Open Meeting and if deemed expedient by the Executive, a referendum shall be held on the issue.
      ii) In the absence of surplus funds, the use of emergency fund may only be authorised for unforeseen expenditure of a critical nature. Only the Senior Treasurer shall normally be permitted to authorise the use of emergency funds, but the Executive may do so if the situation necessitates immediate action and the Senior Treasurer is unavailable.
      iii) Any shortfall in the emergency fund should be made up as soon as is practicable. If such a deficit exists when the formal budget is prepared at the start of Michaelmas term then the budget must include provisions to restore the emergency fund to its proper level at the earliest opportunity.

(c) All income from the College and funds raised by any lawful project undertaken by the Union shall be paid into the Activities Account if not required to restore the emergency fund or to increase the Reserve Account surplus funds. The following expenditures shall be made from this income:

(a) The Junior Treasurer shall draw up a formal budget at the start of Michaelmas term to cover items listed in 2. (c) above. (b) In the period before the approval of the Budget, the Junior Treasurer shall be empowered to make reasonable and timely expenditures, subject to consultation with the Executive for substantial expenditures.

(c) The president shall inform the Junior Treasurer of the Union’s obligations in respect of CUSU, the NUS and all other relevant organizations.

(d) The Union must maintain the emergency fund at 5% of the previous year’s income. The budget must make a provision for any shortfall in this fund to restore it to the required level.

(e) The budget is subject to minor revisions by the Junior Treasurer at any time, although significant deviations from the initially approved budget shall require the renewed approval of the Executive. The Junior Treasurer shall on request provide an updated version of the budget to any member of the Union.

(f) The Junior Treasurer shall maintain a record of all expenditure by the Union, which may be inspected by the Executive at any time with an explanation of the current financial position of the Union.

Funds will be allocated on a Club or Society level. Funds may only be allocated to individuals in extenuating circumstances if there is not a suitable club or society in College, on application to the Executive, which will judge each case on its individual merits. GCSU will not directly fund any other individual.

Each club or society shall be entitled to an allocation no less than two thirds of its average allocation over the past three years, unless there are insufficient funds, in which case each individual allocation shall be reduced proportionally. In exceptional circumstances this clause may be waived at the discretion of the Executive.

A society will not necessarily receive their full allocation of funds in any given term, as payments are made subject to (k) below.

If an allocation is underspent, surplus is not transferable to a subsequent term. An underspent allocation will not unfairly prejudice future applications for funds.

Fundraising undertaken independently by clubs and societies shall not unfairly prejudice their application for funds.
(j) Clubs and societies with allocations of more than £250 must have their own bank account. Other clubs and societies shall, at the discretion of the Junior Treasurer, also be required open a bank account. (l) If the initial allocation of monies is insufficient, applications for additional funds, containing a full report as to why initial monies were inadequate and full justification of spending for the initial funds, will be considered individually by the Junior Treasurer, if the additional funds required are no more than 10% of the initial allocation, or otherwise by the Executive.
